FANTASTIC RUN

In May of 1994, all 16 citizens of Cross Roads who voted elected me as a Town Council Member for this Town. I served on the Town Council for eight years and then was elected mayor of Cross Roads. I have now been your Mayor for the last eight years. After sixteen years of elected service, I am stepping down from public office. I feel that it is time to let someone else lead our Town.

As I look back, it has been a fantastic run. The population of the Town was approximately 390 when I first went on Council and today it is approximately 790. The budget that year was $33,000. Today it is $479,000. Most of the roads in our Town were gravel or at best a limited coat of chip and seal. Today we still have a few chip and seal roads, but the majority of the roads have been resurfaced properly with a two-inch layer of asphalt. These are just a few significant comparisons which indicate the growth and improvements that have taken place in our Town.

The time served, however, has not been without some significant challenges. In 2001, we had a developer who wanted to develop approximately 700 acres into a high-density home development. This proposal forced the Town to decide what we wanted to become. In May of 2002, the citizens of Cross Roads turned out in historic numbers to elect a council and mayor that they believed would best represent their desires for our Town. A 75 percent turnout of all registered voters proclaimed that they did not want to be a high density Town, but wanted to maintain the one-acre minimum residential lot size. This was the year I became your Mayor and Council members Ross Schraeder and Janice Russo were elected to support the incumbents, Virden Seybold and Anna Graef.

The vision that we created at that time has been the backbone of this Town since then: a minimum one-acre residential lot size, no town property taxes, and a focus on repairing and improving the roads.

Another significant challenge during my time in elected office has been the development of three large residential subdivisions: The Village at Cross Roads, Forest Hills and Stone Mountain Estates. These developments required your Town Council to remain steadfast and insist on one-acre minimum lot size and to ensure that the creation of these subdivisions would not burden our citizens with any unnecessary cost or change the country feel and beauty of our community.

During this period, we were also presented with a huge commercial development challenge with The Village at Cross Roads -- often referred to as "the WalMart property". Your elected officials and appointed leaders spent many hours creating a Planned Development that would not cost the Town money, and would provide our citizens needed services as well as an attractive retail site following our Old Texas Country guidelines. While this development has not moved forward as envisioned, the development efforts are continuing. The owners are working to complete the signing of WalMart, which will then create interest for other retailers to join in the completion of the development.

I want to thank all who have graciously served as elected officials, served on Task Forces and Committees, contributed to our campaigns through financial support and time, and who have selflessly supported me in the administration of our Town. I thank our Town Administrator Katherine Ritchie who has been very supportive during these times. She has become a very knowledgeable Town Administrator and has consistently provided me with the support needed in my role as Mayor.

These past sixteen years serving the Town has required many hours of my time. The most significant supporter that I have had is my wife Kay. She also has given of her time to work for the good of our Town. She is dedicated to Cross Roads and its welfare. Thank You, Kay, for all you do.

Cross Roads is in excellent shape with solid governance and leadership to continue with the vision. I plan to be available to the Mayor and Council as needed. I will continue to be passionate about Cross Roads as long as I live. I now want to encourage others to become involved with the Town as active participants in order to keep Cross Roads the Town we all want it to be.

Aubrey Area Library Receives Award...

by Larry Fisher

As Chair of the Aubrey Area Library Board and a proud citizen of Cross Roads, I know you will be as pleased as I was when I learned that our area library has been awarded the Texas Municipal Library Directors Achievement in Excellence in Libraries Award for the third year in a row. Only 27 of the 500 public libraries in the state of Texas were presented this Achievement in Excellence award.

Next time you drop by the library, find Kathy Gilson, our director, and let her know how much you appreciate her work and the fine work of her dedicated staff. On staff is Jan Herbst from Cross Roads who runs the very successful children's programs.

I personally appreciate the financial support the Town of Cross Roads provides. I also thank the Cross Roads Council for their continuing interest in supporting our community through the library.

Kernels from Kay

From time to time I ponder questions about human nature and world affairs. Below are some of these for your consideration.

1. Why are they called the Boston "S"eltics instead of the Boston "K"eltics?
2. Why when mothers keep their children it's called being a mother and when fathers do it it's called "babysitting"?
3. Why does everyone gather by the telephone to talk to mother when mother is on the phone?
4. Why is it impossible to fold a fitted sheet?
5. Why is there Braille lettering on a drive-up ATM pad?
6. Why do folks who would never dream of littering on the streets and byways drop their cigarette butts on the roadways? I say, "Watch your butts!"
7. Why are some things "uploaded" and others "downloaded" on the computer?
8. And, lastly - how MUCH wood could a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood? And- how do you chuck wood anyway?

Local High School Student Receives Award

Sydney Evans, a resident of Cross Roads, Aubrey High School student, and student of Mr. Charles W. Milne at the Denton ISD Advanced Technology Complex, is a winner of the State SkillsUSA Contest. She won the award for her advertising entry "Legal Grounds: Coffee and Council". Students entered the Corporate Identity competition and created an image for a company including mission statements, logos, business cards and more for an imaginary corporation of their choice. The entries were judged on production quality, presentation, complexity, creativity and originality.

Congratulations to Sydney for her hard work and success.

Meet Brant Weatherford

Brant Weatherford is a man of many talents, quick wit and deep thinking. He is an instructional technologist for the Denton ISD. His hobbies include playing acoustic music, riding motorcycles, and doing things in his “man-cave (garage).” He says that he’s “a secret agent for a secret organization but I can’t really talk about it because it’s a secret.” His favorite book is Black Elk Speaks, as told through John Neihardt. His favorite author is Hunter S. Thompson. He says his favorite movies are “Dr. Strangelove” and “2001 -A Space Odyssey” because both illustrate the fragile nature of the human condition and our quest for our demise and resurrection.’ Brant also likes “Easy Rider” because of the music and themes. He most admires Neil Young because of his musical creativity and belief that music is much more than lyrics and chords.

Brant and his wife Maureen McDonald have made Cross Roads their home for the last three years. They live in the Oak Bluff community. Maureen is Vice President of Human Resources with Dell Corporation. They moved here from Plain Old (Plano), Texas.

Education is important to their family. Brant has a B.S. degree in Education/Psychology, a Master of Education in Early Childhood Development, and has done post-graduate work in both Early Childhood Education and Computer Science. They have a son, Thomas Weatherford, who attends OU Law School. Their daughter, Kate Wignall, has graduated from NYC School of Visual Arts and will begin her Master of Fine Arts degree in Sculpture at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Brant likes the Oak Bluff/Cross Roads’ rural atmosphere and its close proximity to Denton. He enjoys having basic services available, and having an open-approach to speaking with the Mayor and Council members about issues that affect the Town. When asked what he would change about Cross Roads if he could, he responded, “ I would dig a big moat around it with one drawbridge, and (then) I’d run the drawbridge.”

When asked where he likes to eat, he said that he likes to eat barbecue from Dickey’s at the Shell station on Highway 380. So, the next time you are in the Shell station, look for Brant and tell him you read about him here in the Cross Roads Times newsletter.

Town Nuisance Ordinance Adopted

A Nuisance Ordinance has been adopted by the Town Council. It is designed to supplement and to coordinate existing control efforts to protect the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Cross Roads. This ordinance establishes standards regulating nuisances such as debris, waste, weeds, rubbish, brush and other unsanitary situations that may cause either health or safety conditions which must be addressed.

When a Nuisance Complaint is received by the Town, it will be assigned to the town's Code Enforcement Officer so that the matter can be investigated. The Code Enforcement Officer will investigate the complaint and take appropriate action if it is determined that there is a violation. Normally the complaint is resolved by requesting that the property owner remove any situation/condition which is found to be in Cross Roads volunteers, elected officials and employees were recognized at the Mayor's Annual Appreciation Dinner held at The Prairie House Restaurant in February.

History of Cross Roads...by Ross Schraeder

We all think of Cross Roads being at the south end of the horse country in Denton County. Whereas this is true, this same area has had many cattle ranches during the past two centuries. One of those ranches, the Caleb Julian Reding Ranch was in the area that is now Cross Roads. The ranch house was located on the land that is at the southeast corner of Fishtrap Road and FM 424, on what is now the Cross Roads Town Park, according to Dan "Butch" Reding, the great grandson of Caleb.

Caleb Reding's ranch was one of Texas' most historic ranches, and as such, the Caleb "C" brand was selected as one of only eight brands to be burned into the Denton County Branding Panel at the Kleberg Center at Texas A&M University. The brand was first used at the ranch in 1875. The photo to the right is of Dan Reding holding the Reding "C" brand at Texas A&M University
